

URBAN & COMMUNITY FORESTRY: CAPITOL HILL BRIEFING

WHEN: Wednesday, February 12th from 2:00 to 3:00pm

WHERE: Longworth House Office Building, Room 1302

---

Learn about the tremendous benefits urban and community trees provide Americans and how state foresters are working to restore their health and resilience nationwide.

State Foresters John Erixson of Nebraska, Rob Farrell of Virginia, and Greg Josten of South Dakota will provide real-world examples of state forestry agency work and explain how the federal Urban and Community Forestry Program supports, and in some states enables, their efforts.

Space is limited. Please RSVP to Robyn Whitney, policy director for the National Association of State Foresters, by COB Monday, February 10th at rwhitney@stateforesters.org.

WON'T BE ABLE TO MAKE IT?

FOLLOW @STATEFORESTERS ON TWITTER FOR UPDATES